Access and communities in Gauteng province, South Africa

Abstract
Key Words: access, community, participation, integrated model, Guangxi province

The model aims to address the issue of urban access and participation in Guangxi province. The model integrates various elements to provide a comprehensive framework for urban development and planning. The model is designed to be applied in areas where there is a need for improvement, particularly in rural areas. It allows for a more holistic approach to urban planning, focusing on both access and participation. The model is tested in Guangxi province, where it is applied to improve access and participation in urban planning. The model is illustrated in the figure provided.
