AN EVALUATION OF THE LEVEL OF AWARENESS ABOUT OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY PRACTICES AMONG WORKERS AT UNIVERSITY OF VENDA

BY

NKUNA THOKO

STUDENT NUMBER: 11595638

A dissertation submitted in fulfillment of the requirements of

Master in Public Health

School of Health Sciences

University of Venda

Supervisor: Prof. H.A Akinsola

Co-Supervisor: Mr A.K Tugli

2012
Abstract

The study aimed to evaluate the level of awareness about occupational health and safety among workers. The results revealed that the level of awareness was poor based on the following findings: 46.3% never heard about occupational health and safety programs. The purpose of this study was to evaluate the level of awareness about occupational health and safety programs.

According to the report, occupational hazards are the leading cause of death in the workplace. Preventing these hazards can save many lives each year.