ABSTRACT

Per Tshivenda culture, it is not allowed for a child not to know his identity which is a totem. The problem of this research is about the Muvenda child who was born and raised without knowing his or her identity or his biological father and the rest who related to them with blood. This research aims to explore the role of totem in Muvenda's life. The research will focus on qualitative studies, so a qualitative research approach will be employed. Purposive sampling method will be employed to select five children who are busy searching for their biological fathers or totems, five women who have stepchildren children, five chiefs as well as five families who are having totems here at Thulamela. This study will apply the qualitative method to analyze the role of totem in Muvenda's life depicted in the two selected novels in which children were not connected to their totem. This research will object to explore the role of totem to Muvenda's to encourage new generations to see the values of the relationship between Vhavenda and their totems. Individual interviews, questionnaires, focus group interview study and observations will be used to collect data for this research. Sociologists' theory of functionalism will be applied to explain the role of totem or biological fathers as the foundation of prosperity and healthy life. The findings of the study will reveal the significance of totem to Muvenda from birth to death. It will be important to those who had totems and they will not avoid their culture and tradition of connecting newborn children with their totems to reduce the high rate of people who go upside down searching for their identity.

Sialala: Ndi mufaro wo faredzaho milayo, kuitele kwa zwithu ngomu kha lushaka une wa tea u rathiselwa kha mirafho na mirafho u bvukulula mvumbo ya lushaka.

1.10. Muhangarambo wa thyiori.

Vincent et al (2006: xxvii) u ri: “Theoretical frameworks are any empirical or quasi-empirical theory of social and psychological process at a variety of levels”.

Izwi zwi amba uri muhangarambo wa thyiori ndi thyiori iñwe na iñwe ine ya vha tshenzhemo kana mvumbo ya vhungoho ha matshilisano na ndila ya kuhumbulele nnyimele dzo fhamabanaho.

Vincent et al (ibid: 148) u ri: “Theoretical frameworks help to shape and direct a study as well as offer means to build upon and link a study to the broader body of literature”.

Makumedzwa aya ndi ane a amba uri muhangarambo wa thyiori ndi thyiori ya zwa matshilisano na zwa muhumbulo kha nyimele dzo fhambanaho, u thusa u fhaṭa na u tumanya ḥod̄isiso na mañwalwa nga u angaredza. Holiday (2001:52) U ri:

Theoretical framework is a concept which focuses on the main features of the research design. It forces the researcher to be explicit about what he/she is doing. Theoretical Framework facilitates the link among various aspects of the study, including the selection of participants, methods of data collection and analysis, and the presentation of data. It helps to delineate the study and position research in the bigger world view.

Izwi zwi ḥalutshedza uri muhangarambo wa thyiori ndi muhumbulo une wa sedza kha zwipiḍa zwihiwlwane zwa vhuvha ha ḥod̄isiso. I kombetshedza muḥod̄isisi u bvela khagala kha zwine a khou ḥod̄isia. Muhangarambo wa thyiori u shuma u vhofhekanya zwipiḍa zwa fhambanaho zwa ḥod̄isiso, hu tshi katelwa munanguludzo wa vhatu vhane vha ḫo shela mulenzhe, kukuvhanganyelwe kwa mafhungo na ḥand̄avhudzo ya data. I thusa u ḥalutshedza ḥod̄isiso na u i vhea kha ku pħesesele na kuvhonele kwa shango kana lushaka. Atkins na Wallace (2012:81) vha ri:

Theoretical Framework is viewed as a set of understanding on the way in which the world functions in relation to research or scientific practice. The analysis of data is done in relation to this structure of understanding of things and reflects the reviewed literature. This effectively causes the study to heavily rely on the literature that is produced in the mould of the same perspective.

Izwi zwi amba uri muhangarambo wa thyiori u vhonala sa sethe ya kupħesesele kwa ndila ine shango ja shuma ngayo zwi tshi kwama ḥod̄isiso kana zwiito zwi vhalah. ḥand̄avhudzo ya mafhungo i itwa na vħuṭumani na tshivhumbeo i ya nga kupħesesele kwa zwithu na u ḥana mañwalwa o lavheleswaho. Izwi zwi ita uri ḥod̄isiso i qisendeke tħoħthe nga mañwalwa nga ndila i fanaho.

Tħisikhaw (2017:16) u ri:

Results should be interpreted and explained in light of the selected theory. The major function of a theoretical framework is to position the research in relation to the research. It is a guide in which the ideology inherent in qualitative research and it can be properly addressed.

Zwi amba uri mvelelo dici nea thalutshedzo u bva kha thyiori yo nangwaho. Mushumo muhulwane wa muhangarambo wa thyiori ndi u vhea thodisiso kha vhuimo hayo malugana na thodisiso kha thodisiso. Ndi sumbandila ya lutendo lwa lushaka ine ya tuuwedza vhudifari ha lushaka Iwonolo, ngomu kha thodisiso ya khwalithethivi i dovha hafhu ya taniwa nga ndila yavhuđi. Swanson (2013:1) a tshi amba u ri:

A good theory is great value in the social since as it is expected to explain meaning, the nature and problems regarding particular phenomenon of study. These are often encountered even though not explained in the world that people live in. This is crucial to allow people to utilize the available knowledge to perform in more informed and effective ways.

Izwi zwi amba uri thyiori yavhuđi ndi ya ndeme kha lushaka saizwi i tshi lavhelela u nea thalutshedzo ya zwine ya amba, mbonalo na thaidzo zwi tshi kwama u vha hone ha thodisiso. Izwi zwi vha tshenzhemo naho zwi sa kwami vhupo vhune vhathu vha tshila khaho. Ndi zwa ndeme u tendela vhathu vha tshi shumisa ndivho i re hone u shuma nga ndila ya u dinetshedzela.

Mafhungo othe o bulwaho afho nthia a na vhushaka na thodisiso vhunga i tshi khou todisia ndeme ya mutupo kha muthu u bva vhuhanahi hawe. Thodisiso iyi i do bveledzwa nga thyiori ya Elwell ine ya vhidzwa “Functionalism”. Elwell ndi mubveledzi wa thyiori ya zwa matshilisano yo disendekaho kha sialala na mvelele ya zwa matshilisano ngomu kha lushaka. Thyiori iyi a i tuuwedzi u shandukisa kutshilele, i vhaba tshanduko ya kutshilele ngomu kha lushaka tshi tshone tshivhangi tshihulwne tsha thaidzo kana khaedu dzine lushaka lwa khou livhana nadzo. Lushaka lwa Vhavenda lwa ñamusi lwo livhana na khaedu dzo fhamabanaho nga mulandu wa u tutshela kutshilele na kuitele kwa sialala na mvelele khathihi na vhurereli ha lushaka lwa murahu lwa Vhavenda.

Thandela iyi yo disendeka kha ndeme ya mutupo wa muthu u bva vhuhanani hawe u swika a tshi lovha. Thandelai yo sumbedza siangane, tshitatamende tsha thaidzo, ndivho, zwipikwa, mbudziso dza thodisiso, ndeme ya thodisiso, reshinale, mikano ya thodisiso, maipfhi a ndeme na muhanga wa thyiori.

NDIMA YA VHUVHILI: TSENGULUSO YA MAÑWALWA

2.0. MVULATSWINGA

Ndima iyi i do lavhelesana na mañwalwa ane a vha na vhushaka na thoho ya thodisiso iyi. U sedzulusa mañwalwa zwi na mushumo wa u tutula na u t̄andavhudza muhangarambo wa thodisiso, u itela u bvisela khagala mveledziso siani ja ngundo. U bvukulula tshikhala tsha ndivho i re hone kha thodisiso dzo no itwaho.

Ndivho ya tsenguluso ya mañwalwa ndi u fhaña mutheo wa ndivho kha thoho ya thodisiso, u thivhela u dovhoholwa ha mañwalwa o no vhaho hone, u thusa u t̄andavhudza ndivho yo no vhaho hone u itela u alusa mawanwa na u vha tsumbandila ya thodisiso. Ndima iyi yo lavhelesa mañwalwa o no ñwalwaho nga vhañwe vhañwali ane a vha na vhushaka na thoho ya thodisiso. I do lavhelesa uri vhañwe vhañwali vha ri mini nga ipfhi mutupo, ipfhi vhurereli, ipfhi mvelele, ipfhi sialala, ipfhi zwiilaila, ipfhi muphaso, mutupo sa ñwana, ndeme ya mutupo kha muthu u bva vhuhahani hawe, mutupo sa tshivhumbeo tsha vhurereli, mutupo sa tshivhumbeo tsha pfhunzo kana ngudo na mutupo sa mutsireledzi wa mupo na vhubvo ha mutupo.

2. Tsenguluso ya mañwalwa

Fraenkel (2006:67) u vhea tsenguluso ya mañwawa nga u rali: “A literature review is helpful in two ways, it does not help the researchers glean the ideas of others, interested in a particular research question but also lets them about the results of others’studies”.

Izwi zwi amba uri tsenguluso ya mañwalwa i thusa nga ndila mbili dzo fhambanaho, a i thusi fhedzi muñodisisi u wana mihibulo ya vhañwe vhañwali kana u vha na dzangalelo kha mbudziso dza thodisiso fhedzi, i vha thusa uri vha kone u swikela mvelele dza thodisiso dza ngundo dza vhañwe. Muñodisisi nga mañwalwa ane a vha na vhushaka na thoho ya thodisiso yawe u do thusea vhukuma kha u swikelela zwipikwa zwa thodisiso yawe. Blaxter na vhañwe (1998:101) vha ri:

Literature review is a critical summary and assessment of the range of existing materials dealing with knowledge and understanding in a given field. Its purpose is to locate the research project to form its context or background and to provide insights into previous work.

Vhañwali avha vha amba uri tsenguluso ya mañwalwa ndi manweledzo o ḥandavhuwaho na u ḥola tshumedzo dzo no vhaho hone u shumana na nđivho na u pfhesesa kha sia lo ñeiwaho. Ndivho ya tsenguluso ya mañwalwa ndi u vhea ḥodisiso kha tshivhumbeo tshayo ngomu kha siangane na u i ñea tshedza kha mishumo yo no itwaho. ḥodisiso i do ḥandavhudza mafhungo a mutupo o no vhaho hone nga u engedza mafhungo a ndeme ya mutupo kha ñwana wa Muvenda u bva hanani hawe u swika a tshi fhira shangoni.

2.1. IPFHI MUTUPO

Mann (1983:339) u ri: “A totem is a complex of ideas thought to involve a relationship between a social group such as a clan and some class of natural objects”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi ñanda ya mihibulo i katelaho vhushaka vhukati ha zwigwada zwa matshilisano zwi ngaho lushaka na zwibveledzwa zwa mupo. Kha lushaka lwa Vhavenda vhunzhi ha mitupo ndi zwipuka, zwikhokhonono, zwimela, mađi, milambo na thavha zwine zwa vha zwibveledzwa zwa mupo.

Frazer (1819:838) a tshi amba mutupo u ri: “The totem is first of all tribal ancestors of a clan, as well as its utterly spirit and protector. Totem knows and spares its children. The attachment of the totem is the foundation of all social obligations”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi tshithu tsha u thoma kha vhadzimu vha lushaka, wa dovha wa vha myua na mutsireledzi. Mutupo u a ñivha na u londota vhana vhawo. Vhutumani ha mutupo ndi vhubvo ha nyimele dzi vhofhaho muthu uri a dzi bveledze. U ya nga mvelele ya Tshivenda musi ñwana a tshi tou bebya, u mbo ñi ñivhadzwa kha mutupo uri u kone u mu londota, u mu tsireledza na u mu lwela. Strauss (1962:3) u ri: “Totem is an illusion of features which have wider significance”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi lutendo lwa zwibveledzwa zwine zwa vha na mbonalo yo ḥandavhuwaho. Rivers (1924:34) a tshi amba u ri: "Totem is a combination of social element with a psychological one and ritual one".

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi ḥhanganelano ya zwipiḍa zwa vhutshilo, mihibulo na nyito dza vhurereli. Freud (1945:105) a tshi amba mutupo u ri: "Totems was the projection of hypothetical tribes oedipal guilty of murder of the patriarch".

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi ndila ya u bveledza lushaka zwi tshi kwama u ḫivhona mulandu ha lushaka Iwonolo kha u vhulaha kutshilele na kuitele kwa lushaka ulwo. Mutupo u tsireledza muthu ngeno muthu a tshi ḥonifha mutupo nga ndila dzo fhambanaho, sa u sa u vhulaha, u u ḥa kana u u remekanya arali tshi tshimela. Frazer (1887: 23) u ri: "Totems were regarded as responsible for causing pregnancy among women. Totem is the guardian spirit which has become hereditary from the father not from the mother".

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo u dzhiwa u na vhudifhinduleli ha u vhona uri muthu wa mbeu ya tshifumakadzini a vhe muthu wa thovhele. Mutupo ndi muruṇwa wa muya une u dzhielwa u bva kha khotsi hu si kha mme. Ndi ngoho vhunga ḥwana ane a ri u bebya, a sa vhe na vhushaka na khotsi wa malofhani, musi a tshi aluwa u ḥoda u ḫivha khotsi awe na mashaka othe a ha khotsi. Pfukwa (2014: 11) a tshi ḥalutshedza mutupo u ri:

The totem is an animal that a clan takes up and expresses certain values and virtues. Each totem is buttressed by a string of myth and folklore. The mutupo serves as a social bond and is an expression of collective identity for a clan or family that carries that totem. Totems give way for ethical codes to promote peace and order in particular society. Totems are components of everyday life and are passed down from one age group to another watched over by society primarily to direct the behaviour of members. They serve a unifying function amongst descendants of the same clan and regulate their relations with natural resources.

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi tshipuka kana tshifuwo tshine lushaka lwa tshi dzhiela n̄ha na u tshi ḥonifha. Mutupo muṇwe na muṇwe u na mbonalo ya thai na ngano, wone u shuma sa mbofho ya lushaka wa dovha wa ḥalusa lushaka kana muṭa. Mitupo i ḥea milayo ya u bveledza mulalo na ndango kha lushaka. Mitupo ndi zwipiḍa zwa vhutshilo ha ḫuvha ḥiṇwe na ḥiṇwe, zwa dovha hafhu u fhiriselwa kha mirafho na mirafho ya lushaka i tevhelaho sa ndila ya u sumbedza vhudifari ha mirađo ya lushaka. Mutupo u dovha wa shuma u ḥanganya vhathu vha lushaka luthihi na u langa vhushaka havho na zwibveledzwa zwa mupo saizwi miňwe ya miňa i tshi shumisa mitupo sa zwifani zwayo. Mutupo u dovha wa vha wa ndeme vhunga u tshi kona u bvukulula vhushaka vhukati ha vhathu kana miňa ye ya vha i si tsha ḫivhana. Nga mvelele ya Tshivenda vhathu vha vhuya vha wana uri mutupo wavho ndi muthihi, a vha tsha dovha vha malelana saizwi vha tshi ḫidzhia vho no vha mashaka a malofha tshothe.

Strauss (1971:35) a tshi amba nga mutupo u ri: "Totems are seen as unifying symbol in most traditional areas which bind people. In some societies male and female from families or clan using the same totems are not allowed to marry believing that their blood is in relation to each other".

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo u vhonala sa tshigathalu tshi konanyaho lushaka. Kha dziňwe tshaka munna na mufumakadzi vhane vha shumisa mutupo muthihi, a vho ngo tendelwa u dzeana ngauri hu na lutendo lwa uri vha dzofha ḥithihi.

Strauss (1971:65) u ri:

Totem animal or animal body organs believed to be sacred to family, clan, or lineage. Totems should not be consciously consumed by a member of a clan. Sexual relations between person of the same totems is forbidden since they share common ancestors. Totems also serve as an account of lineage's history and character.

Izwi zwi amba uri mirađo wa tshifuwo kana tshipuka hu na lutendo lwa uri tshi a ila kha muňa kana mashaka. Mutupo a wo ngo tea u ḥiwa nga mirađo wa muňa. Vhushaka ha u dzeana vhukati ha vhathu vha mutupo zwe iledzwa vhunga vhathu avho vha tshi kovhekana vhomakhulukuku vhathihhi. Mutupo u dovha wa shuma sa ḫivhazwakale na mvumbo ya vhushaka. Nga mvelele ya Tshivenda khaladzi na khaladzi a vho ngo tea u dzeana vhunga zwi na masiandaitwa kha ḥwana ane a do beba. Mutupo a u ḥiwi vhunga u tshi sinisa maňo na u thivhela mbembo. Brown (1965:129) a tshi amba mutupo u ri: "Totem is an object which has important effects upon the well-being material or spirit of society. It stands such as an object of ritual attitude".

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo ndi tshibveledzwa tsha ndeme kha lushaka, hu nga vha zwi fareaho kana zwa tshimuya, zwo imela vhurereli ho fhambanaho sa muphaso na u shela fola fhasi na zwiñwe zwinhizwinzhi zwine lushaka lwa zwi ita i ndila ya u hulisa mutupo walwo. Musi Vhavenda vha tshi livhuha, u dīvhadza zwiñwe kha mutupo wavho, vha shumisa u phasa kana u shela fola fhasi i ndila ya davhidzana na mitupo yavho.

2.2. Vhubvo ha Mutupo

Frazer (1919: 76) a tshi ḥalutshedza vhubvo ha mutupo u ri: “Origin of totem is an interpretation of the conception and birth of children”.

Izwi zwi amba uri vhubvo ha mutupo ndi ḥhaluso ya mathomo na u bebya ha ነwana. Musinguzi Bamuturaki (2011:13) kha inthanethe u ri:

Clan names began as nicknames of all kinds. A good many clan names were derived from people's occupations and from the implements they used. The hills and other natural features found in and around places where heads of the clan and heads of the clan subdivisions made their permanent settlements turned out to be clan names, for instances, rocks, rivers, mountains, caves, plants, animals, other natural features.

Izwi zwi amba uri mutupo wo thoma sa madzina a miswaswo. Mitupo ya lushaka yo bva kha vhuimo ha vhathe na zwine vha shumisa. Zwikwara na dziñwe mbonalo dza mupo mupo zwi wanalahoheneffo tsini. Zwibveledzwa izwo, zwo vha ḥoho dza lushaka, ḥoho dzenedzo dza dovha u fhandekana u bva kha lushaka u ya kha miña, zwikwara na thavha idzo dzo mbo vha vhudzulo ha miña iyo lwa tshothe, zwa mbo shanduka u vha madzina e a simuya u bva kha thavha, mabako, milambo, zwimela na zwifubo kana zwipuka zwa mupo. Lang (2012:347) a tshi amba nga vhubvo ha mutupo u ri: “Totems names are the titles of groups of kindred, real or imagined, their derived from animals, plants, and other natural objects. They appear among tribes who reckon descent either on the sword or spindle side. The totem name of each group is usually the mark of the exogamous”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mitupo ndi madzina a zwigwada zwa miña a vhukuma kana khumbulelwa, o simuwaho kha zwipuka, zwimela na zwiñwe zwibveledzwa zwa mupo. Miñwe ya mitupo yo vha hone kha tshaka dze dza tumbulwa nga kha mapfhumo kana vhura. Mirado ya lushaka ine ya kovhekana mutupo, yo iledzwa u dzeana.

2.3. Ipfhi Sialala

Hornyby (2015:1604) a tshi ḥalutshedza ipfhi sialala u ri: “Tradition is a belief, customs or way of doing something that has existed for a long time among a particular group of people”.

Izwi zwi amba uri sialala ndi lutendo, nqila ya u shuma zwithu zwa kalekale kha lushaka Iwonolo. Sialala ndi vhuvha hashu vhune ha bveledza vhathu na mirađo ya lushaka. Webster Dictionary (2016) u zwi vhea nga u rali: “Tradition is the handing down of information, beliefs or customs from one generation to another”.

Zwi amba uri sialala ndi nqila ya u pfhukisela nqivho, lutendo u bva kha murafho u ya kha murafho. Frank, kha Sonnerbergonline (2014:36) a tshi amba nga ha ha Sialala u ri:

Tradition represents a critical piece of our culture. It helps to form the structure and foundation of our families and our society. It reminds us that we are part of a history that defines our past, shapes who we are today, and we are likely to become. Once we ignore the meaning of our tradition, we are in danger of damaging the underpinning of our identity. Tradition contributes as a sense of comfort and belonging. It brings families together and enables people to reconnect.

Izwi zwi amba uri sialala yo imela tshipida tshihulwane tsha mvelele. I ri thusa u vhumba tshiimiswa na mutheo wa miṭa na lushaka. I ri humbudza uri ri tshipida tsha ḥivhazwakale ine ya ḥalutshedza vhubvo hashu, i ri vhumba zwine ra vha zwone namusi na zwine ra do vha zwone. Musi ri sa londoti kana u ḥhangela sialala yashu, ri kha khombo ya u kwashekanya vhuvha hashu. Sialala i ita uri vhathu vha vhofholowe na u ḥivha hune vha wela hone, Sialala i vhuedza kana u ḥanganya miṭa. Mateja (2012:619) u ri: “Tradition provide value system and standards of excellence, yet it frequently depends on the culture and it often rather inconsistent with their original religious beliefs”.

Izwi zwi khou amba uri sialala i nea sisiteme dza ndeme dza maimo a n̄tha, naho yo disendeka kha mvelele. I dovha ya sa tou fana tshoṭhe na mvelele kha sia ja vhurereli. Shills (1958:156) u ri:

Tradition is not the dead hand of the past but rather the hand of the gardener which nourishes and elicits tendencies of judgement which would otherwise but not be strong enough to merge own their own. Tradition is an encouragement to Incipient individuality rather its enemy, it is a stimulant to moral judgement and self - discipline rather than opiate.

Izwi zwi amba uri sialala a si maitele a kale a hangweaho fhedzi ndi maitele ane a fusha na u netshedza ndowelo ine ya vha na maanda nga yone iñe. I dovha hafhu u vha na thuthuwedzo kha u fhaña muthu u fhirisa u vha swina Jawe nahone i tuñuwedza vhudifari ha muthu. Douglas (1986:170) a tshi amba sialala u ri:

Tradition is a public memory which is a storage system for the social order. It is like private memory; elastic and it is constantly shape as it evokes and remembered it. It is a key of understanding the past and its influence on us is to focus on the present reconstruction and reinterpretation of the past.

Zwi amba uri sialala ndi mihibulo wa lushaka ine ya vha tshiko kana tshisiku tsha matshilisano, i ya aluwa, i ya fhaña sa izwi i tshi humbulea, i dovha ya vha ndila ya u phesesa zwa vhomakhulukukuku na thuthuwedzo ya zwa maitele a murahurahu. Yadgar (2013:457) ene u ri: "Tradition is a precondition of our individuality, is a substructure, primarily of practice and meaning that is nurturing be from within we develop and through which we conduct ourselves as individual and members of society".

Izwi zwi amba uri sialala ndi nyimele ine ya tea u swikelelwa nga riñe vhathu, ndi tshibveledzwa tshi tikedzaho nyito na thalutshedzo ine ya tsireledza vhubvo ha lushaka nga ndila ine muthu kana mirađo ya lushaka ya tea u tshila ngayo kana u difara ngayo.

2.4. Ipfhi Mvelele

Davhana (2010:43) u ri: "Mvelele ndi tshenzhemo na ndivho ya kuitele kwa zwithu kana kutshilele kwa lushaka lwonolwo. I angaredza luambo mikhwa, lutendo, milayo, zwiila, vhutsila, zwiko zwa u guda, zwishumswa, ngoma dza vhadzimu, u vhumba kholomo na u vhuisa mufu".

Burnett (1920:1) u ri: "Culture is an explanation for difference among human society. It is a complex whole which includes knowledge, belief art law, morals, customs, and capabilities learned by a man as a member of society".

Izwi zwi amba uri Mvelele ndi thalutshedzo ya lushaka. Ndi thandavhudzo i katedaho ndivho, lutendo, vhutsila, milayo, pfanelo na zwine zwa tea u gudiwa nga muthu sa mirađo wa lushaka Richards (2007:110) a tshi amba u ri:

Culture is essential aspect of being human, is the learned symbolic at least partially adaptive and ever-changing patterns of behaviour shared by members of a group. Culture is the shared collection of norms or guidelines of behaviour and values, and it is a major adaptive mechanism of human species.

Izwi zwi amba uri mvelele ndi tshipida tsha muthu tshine tsha gudiwa tsha dovha hafhu tsha vha tshiga tshine a tshi shandukiswi khathihi na vhudifari vhu kovhekanywaho nga mirađo ya lushaka. I dovha hafhu ya vha ndendedzi ya vhudifari na lutendo. Mashige (2011:7) u ri: “Culture is a symbolic system that mediates and regulates belief system relationship. It can be seen as unfinished presentation”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mvelele ndi tshiga tshi sa ambi, tshi laula vhushaka ha lutendo. Mvelele i vhonala i sa gumi thalutshedzo. Douglas (1970: 67) u ri: “Culture is the way in which members of society understand who they are and gives lives meaning”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mvelele ndi ndila ine mirađo ya lushaka lwa qidivha ngayo uri ndi vhone vhonnyi na u vha nea thalutshedzo ya vhutshilo havho. Ebora kha inthanethe u ri:

Culture provides important social and economic benefits with improved learning and health, increased tolerance, and opportunities to come together with others, culture enhances our quality of life and increase over rall well-being of both individuals and communities.

Izwi zwi amba uri mvelele i bveledza matshilisano na mbuelo dza makwevho na u takulela ntha ngundo na mutakalo na u gonyisela ntha tshikhala tsha vhathu uri vha vhe tshithu tshithihi. Mvelele i nea na vhuthu muthu kana vhathu vha lushaka. Avruch (1998:17) a tshi amba mvelele u ri:

Culture is the derivaties of experience, more or less organised, learned or created by indivinduals of population, including those images or encodements and their interpretations (meanings) transmitted from past generation from contemporaries or formed by individulas themselves.

Izwi zwi amba zwa uri mvelele yo simuwa kha tshenzhemo, zwinzhi kana zwitšuku zwe dzudzanywaho, zwe gudiwaho kana u sikiwa nga vhathu u bva kha tshigwada, zwi tshi katela zwifanyiso kana u shandukiswa ha luambo u ya kha zwiga na ḥhalutshedzo dzazwo u bva kha murafho wo fhiraho tshenetsho tshifhinga kana u vhumbwa nga vhathu vhone vhañe. Vhavenda sa lushaka nga maanda miña i na mitupo vho vha na kutshilele na lutendo Iwavho zwe zwa sala i mvelele ya yeneyo miña. Mvelele i tea u pfukiselwa kha mirafho i tevhelaho. Spencer (2008:3) u ri:

Culture is a fuzzy set of basic assumptions and values, orientations to life, beliefs, policies, procedures and behavioral conventions that are shared by a group of people, and that influence each member's behaviour and his or her interpretations of the meaning of other people's behaviour.

Izwi zwi amba uri mvelele ndi seethe yo putelwaho ya milayo kha vhutshilo, lutendo na ndayotewa khathihi na vhudifari vhune ha kovhekanywa nga tshigwada tsha vhathu, ya dovha hafhu u ṭutuwedza vhudifari ha murađo muñwe na muñwe, i vha na ḥhalutshedzo ya zwine ya amba kha vhudifari ha vhañwe vhathu. Mvelele ya lushaka lwa Vhavenda ndi ine ya ḥalutshedza zwine vha vha zwone na u vha fhambanya na dziñwe tshaka.

Hofstede (1991:8) ene u ri: “Although certain aspects of culture are physically visible, their meaning is invisible, their cultural meaning lies precisely and only in the way these practices are interpreted by insiders”.

Muñwali uyu u amba uri naho zwiñwe zwipiđa zwa mvelele zwi tshi vhonala nga mađo a ñama, zwine zwa amba a zwi vhonali, ḥhalutshedzo yazwo ya mvelele i ngomu kha zwine zwa itwa na u ḥalutshedzwa nga vha re ngomu. Mutupo vhunga u tshimela kana tshipuka tshi vhonalaho nga mađo zwine tsha amba zwone a zwi vhonali nga mađo, fhedzi nga mvelele ya Tshivenda mutupo u na zwine wa amba zwone. Nga mvelele ya Tshivenda a si muthu muñwe na muñwe ane a davhidzana na mutupo nga nnđa ha makhadzi kana khotsimunene o khetheaho wa lushaka. Ferraro (1998:16) ene a tshi amba nga ha mvelele u ri:

Culture is shared by at least two or more people and of course real, live societies are always larger than that. There is other words, no such thing as the culture of a hermit. If a solitary individual thinks and behaves in a certain way, that thought or action is idiosyncratic not cultural, for an idea, a thing or behaviour to be considered cultural, it must be shared by some type of social group or society.

A series of ceremonies at birth, puberty, marriage and death are described, all performed with the object of achieving an identification of man with his totem. All members of a totem clan regard each other as kinsmen or brothers and sisters and are bound to help and protect each other. People of the same totems may not marry or have sexual intrercourse with each other. Totems also involves the rules of exogamy. Forbidding marriage within the kin and necessitating inter marriage between the kins. It is essentially connected with the matri-archal stage of culture (mother right) it passes over into the patriarchal stage (father right). The totems are regarded as kinsfolk and protectors of the kinsmen, who respect them and absatain from killing and eating them. Totem is the crest and symbol of the kin.

Totems help members of the family identify, recognise and belong to each other even when they have never met before in their lives. Persons of the same blood may enter into an incestuous relationship or even marry without knowing that they are related and deformities may occur to children born of parents of the same blood, are scientific not constructions of superstition or witchcraft. Marriage of people of the same blood could result in weak breeds so totems were the instrument used to ensure that society grew, supported by a strong people. Totems reflected African science, a certain intelligence and unique development that did not require one to be literate to understand and appreciate it.

The parental role places great importance on letting the child to know who they are in relation to their family, their kin, their people, their environment and living spirits of their ancestors and the land. This relationship defines a child's identity by defining how they are connected to everything in life. After the time of birth or just before the birth, a child is given a totem. Children who are not connected to their family's culture and spiritually are at great risk of psychological, health development and educational disadvantage. They suffer as children and later as adults from the grief and loneliness of not belonging and they are being denied their rights.

The case study is the most flexible of all research designs, allowing the researcher to retain the holistic characteristic of real-life events while investigating empirical events. In general, a case study is an empirical inquiry which investigates a contemporary phenomenon within its real-life context. When the boundaries between phenomenon and context are not clearly evident, and in which multiple sources of evidence are used.

Qualitative researchers prefer induction, informed by constructionism and interpretivism, even though qualitative researchers do not subscribe to all these positions which are: Naturalism, which seeks to understand social reality in its own terms as its reality is, provides rich description of people and interaction in natural setting. Ethnomethodology seeks to understand how social order is created through talk and interaction which has a naturalistic orientation. Emotionalism; concerned with subjectivity and gaining access to inside experience. It also concerned with inner reality of humans.

Primary data are information collected by a researcher specifically for a research assignment. In other words, primary data are information that a company must gather because no one has compiled and published the information in a forum accessible and published. Companies generally take the time and allocate the resources required to gather primary data only when a question, issues or problem presents itself that is sufficiently important or unique that it warrants the expenditure necessary to gather the primary data.

Izwi zwi amba uri mafhungo a tshiko tsha phraimari ndi mawanwa o kuvhanganywaho nga muḥod̄isisi u bveledza ḥod̄isiso. 3.4.1.4. Mbudzisavhathu

Kabir (Ibid: 211) a tshi amba mbudzisavhathu u ri: “Interviews involve asking questions and getting answers from participants of the study, interviews have a variety of forms including individual, face to face interviews and group interviews”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu i katela u vhudzisa mbudziso na u wana phindulo u bva kha vhavhudzisa. Mbudzisavhathu i na tshivhumbeo tshi katelaho muthu, na tshigwada. Holstein and Gubrium (2003:253) vha amba u ri:

Interviews is a type of conversation in the social environment which affairs scientific data to the researcher through speech. It is a common method of data gathering which captures perceptions, descriptions of conditions and meanings from interactions of people.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu ndi nyambedzano ngomu vhutshiloni ine ya nea mułodisisi mafhungo a saints. Ndi ndila yo ḋoweleaho ya u kuvhanganya mafhungo ane a ṭutula dzangalelo, u bvisela khagala ḫhaluso ya nyimele na ḫhalutshedzo nga u davhidzana vhukati ha vhatu.

3.4.1.4.1. Mbudzisavhathu ya muthu

Creswell (2007:215) a tshi amba mbudzisavhathu ya muthu u ri:

Individual interview is also called one on one interview and is a data collection process where the researchers ask questions to and records answers from only one participant at a time. One on one interviews are ideal for interviewing participants who are not hesitant to speak, are articulate and who can share ideas comfortably.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu ya muthu, ndi mbudzisavhathu vhukati ha muthu na muthu. Ndi ndila ya u kuvhanganya mafhungo hune mułodisisi a vhudzisa mbudziso, a rekhoda phindulo u bva kha muthu muthihi nga tshifhinga tshithihi. 3.4.1.4.2. Mbudzisavhathu ya tshigwada

Babbie (2007: 308) a tshi amba mbudzisavhathu ya tshigwada u ri:

The focus group interview is also called group interviewing and is essentially a qualitative method; It is based on structured or semi- structured interview questions. It allows the researcher to question several individuals systematically and simultaneously. The subjects are selected on the basis of relevance to the topic under the study.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu ya tshigwada i vhidzwa u vhudzisa ha tshigwada tsha vhathe, i dovha ya vha ngona ya ndeme ya khwalithethivi. Yo disendeka kha mbudzisavhathu dzo dzunywaho na mbudzisavhathu dici songo dzudzanywaho. I tendela mułodisi u vhudzisa mbudziso vhathe vha na tshivhalo nga vhurwonwane. Bryman na vharwe (2011:232) vha ri: “The focus group method is a form of group interview in which there are several participants, in addition to the moderator. There is an emphasis in the questioning on a particular fairly tightly defined topic. The accent is upon interaction within the group and how participants jointly construct meaning”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu ya tshigwada ndi ngona ine khayo ha vha na vhabvumbedza vha na tshivhalo. Hu na khwathisedzo ya u vhudzisa mbudziso u ḥalusa ḥohohya ḥodisiso. Bryman, Bell, Du Toit na Wagner (2011: 2016) vha ri: “Structured or standardized interview involves the use of a standard interview schedule by an interviewer so that all interviewees are given exactly the same questions. Interviewer is supposed to read out questions exactly and in same order. The goal is to ensure that interviewee’s replies can be aggregated”.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu yo dzudzanywaho i katela mbudziso dzo dzudzanywaho nga muvhudzisi uri vhavhudzisa vha vhudziswe mbudziso dzi fanaho. Muvhudzisi u vhala mbudziso kha mutevhe u fanaho ndivho khulwane i ya u vhona uri phindulo dzi vhe na ndunzhendunzhe. Kabir (2016: 211) u ḥalutshedza vhuvha ha mbudzisavhathu yo dzudzanywaho nga nqila hei:

The interviewer asks each respondent the same series of questions. The questions are created prior to the interview and often have limited set of response categories. The interviewer plays a neutral role and acts casual and friendly but does not inset his or her opinion in the interview. Questioning is standardized and the ordering and phrasing of the questions are kept consistent from interview to interview.

Izwi zwi amba uri mbudzisavhathu dzo dzudzanywaho, muvhudzisi u vhudzisa muvhudzisa muñwe na muñwe mutevhe wa mbudziso dzi no fana. Maree (2012:83) u ri:

Observation is used to enable the researcher to gain a deeper insight and understanding of the phenomenon being observed. Observation is an essential data gathering technique as it holds the possibility of providing the researcher with an insider perspective of the group dynamics and behaviors in different setting. It allows the researcher to hear, see and begin to experience reality as participants do. As a researcher, one can learn through personal experience and reflection on how the setting is socially constructed in terms of power, communication lines, discourse, and language.

Maxwell (1996:136) U ri:

Purposive sampling is also known as judgmental, selective, or subjective sampling is a form of non-probability sampling in which researchers rely on their own judgment when choosing members of population to participate in their study. This sampling method requires researchers to have prior knowledge about the purpose of their studies so that they can properly choose and approach eligible participants. Researchers use purposive sampling when they want to access a particular subset of people as all participants of study are selected because they fit particular profile.

Izwi zwi amba uri ḥthumbulo ya phephosivi i vhidzwa khaṭhulo, u topola lwa vhudzivha u bva kha tshivhumbeo tsha ḥthumbulo ya u anganyela ine ya shumisa tsheo u nanga, hune vha ḥodisisi vha ḫisendeka kha khaṭhulo dzavho musi vha tshi nanga mirađo ya tshitshavha u ri i dzhenelela kha ngundo dzavho. Bailey (2018:159) a tshi amba nga u sengulusa mafhungo u ri:

Data analysis is the stage in which you work to put the pieces together to present a picture of the social context that you set out the study. It is the process by which we make sense of all the data that we have collected over the course of a project, allowing the researcher to make some assertion about a particular social and cultural space'.

Izwi zwi amba uri u senguluswa ha mawanwa ndi tshiṭeidzhi tshine muṭodisi a shuma u vhekanya zwipiḍa zwa vha tshithu tshithihi u bveledza tshifanyiso siani ḥa vhutshilo hune ngundo ya khou bveledzwa khaho. Ethnography is a research methodology and as such it has a strong foundation in empiricism and naturalism. Ethnography, through the written word, provides richly described accounts of social phenomenon being studied as well as recounting of methods used, these accounts also offer detailed thick descriptions of people, places, actions and reactions being studied, which are presented in the form of study findings.

Coding is to discover an exploratory problem-solving technique without specific formulas to follow. Theoretical framework is viewed as a set of understanding on the way in which the world functions in relation to research or the scientific practice. The analysis of data is done in relation to this structure of understanding of things and reflects the reviewed literature. This effectively causes the study to heavily rely on the literature that is produced in the mould of the same perspective.

Izwi zwi amba uri muhanga wa thyiori u dzhiwa sa seethe ya kupfhesesele nga ndila ine shango la shuma ngayo zwi tshi kwama thodisiso kana nyito dza saints. Holiday (2001:52) u ri:

The major function of a theoretical framework is to position the researcher in relation to the research. It is a guide in which the ideology inherent in qualitative research can be properly addressed. A theoretical framework facilitates the link among various aspects of the study, including selection of participants, methods of data collection and analysis and the presentation of data; it helps to delineate the study and to position research in the bigger world view.

Izwi zwi amba zwauri mushumo muhulwane wa Muhanga wa thyiori ndi u vhekanya mutodisisi ngomu kha vhushaka hawe na thodisiso. Swanson (2013:1) u ri:

A good theory is of great value in the social science as it is expected to explain meanings, the nature, and problems regarding a particular phenomenon of the study. These are often encountered even though not explained in the world that people live in. This is crucial to allow people to utilize the available knowledge to perform in more informed and effective ways.

Functionalism is a theoretical perspective in sociology and social science in general, which places special emphasis on the positive contributions made by any given social agreement for example institutions, cultural values, norms, rites for the current operability and the continued reproduction of social and cultural patterns. It has been established as a theory that established a broad analogy between societies and biological organism.

Yo tumbulwa sa thyiori yo tumbulaho mbampedzo yo ḥandavhuwaho vhukati ha lushaka na zwi tshilaho. Giddens (1984:5) u ri:

Functionalism is a broad perspective in sociology and anthropology which sets out to interpret society as a structure with interrelated parts. Functionalism addresses society as a whole in terms of function of its constituent elements namely, norms, customs traditions and institutions. Functionalism strongly emphasizes pre-eminence of the social world over its individual parts.

Izwi zwi amba uri thyiori ya mashumele ndi iṭo ḥa nguda lushaka na nguda vhatu na mvelele khathihi na u bvelela havho ine ya ḥalutshedza lushaka sa tshiimiswa tshi na zwipiḍa zwi shumisanaho. Functionalism sees social structure or the organization of society as more important than individual. Functionalism is a “top-down theory”. Individuals are born into society and become the product of all the social influences around them as they are socialized by various institutions such as the family, education, media, and religion. Functionalism sees society as a system, a set of interconnected parts which together form a whole. There is a relationship between all these parts and agents of socialization and together they all contribute to the maintenance of society as a whole.

Functionalism still seems completely appropriate, the fact that the culture and personality school focused upon personality and that structural functionalist focused upon society changes nothing. Functionalism emphasizes the consensus and order that exist in society, focusing on social stability and share public values. From this perspective, disorganization in system, such as deviant behavior leads to change because societal components must adjust to achieve stability. When one part of all other parts is dysfunctional, it affects all other parts and creates social problems prompting social change.

Functionalism is the belief that a social pattern is best understood, not in terms of historical origin, but in terms of its consequences for and functions thin a given society. It is defined as a theory which talks about the nature of mental states. According to this theory, mental states are identified by what they do rather than what they are made of which contrasts with behaviorism. It is also known for retaining the traditional idea that mental states are internal states of thinking creatures.
